

THE MAVERICK

First of all, I would like to welcome each and every one to Maverick House. Whether you are a resident or simply visiting, I would personally like to say that we are very pleased to have you and hope that you will find the House a pleasant surprise.

Maverick House has begun a new era in dormitory life at the University of North Carolina. We are only one year old and yet we have already received a vast amount of recognition extending up to the very top of the administration here at the University.

This is no place to stop or even slow down—we must strive even harder as we enter our second year. This is exactly what we have planned.

If you are an entering freshman, I am sure that you will find a diversified program. As you look through our handbook, you will be able to see that we offer something that should appeal to every student. We ask you to participate in our programs and I am sure that you will find the results to be more than satisfactory.

Again I would like to welcome everyone to Maverick House and if I can be of service to you, please do not hesitate to call on me.

Sincerely,
Eddie McMahan

“New Administration takes over”

Maverick House has a unique form of government that benefits its residents, that makes it the most active residence hall in campus affairs, that rivals the purpose and significance of the experimental Residence College System, and that deserves recognition as a possibility for governmental organization in other residence halls.

In addition to its six executive officers, Craige has a workhorse Senate of thirty boys, a nucleus for stimulating the interests and for administering to the needs of its more than seven hundred residents. The Senate both initiates programs and serves to carry out those requested by the executive officers. Five boys within the Senate serve as officers for the body, the other twenty-five as representatives to the wings of the residence hall. One Senator on each wing makes for coordinated efforts, clear communications, and the promotion of interest and participation in the various M. H. activities. To further promote efficiency and coordination, the Senate meets once a week.

The president who was succeeded by Eddie McMahan, A. D. Frazier has often said of M.H. efforts, “The difficult we do at once, the impossible takes a little longer.” This statement illustrates the effectiveness of M.H. governmental organization and the degree of M.H. spirit.

JAYNE KICKS OFF NEW MAVERICK SOCIAL PROGRAM

JANE MANSFIELD

In October, the Maverick House was fortunate to have a famous star "Kick-Off" its social season. Miss Jayne Mansfield accepted a Maverick invitation and came to the House on a Sunday afternoon. Approximately 1,000 people attended the historic event and saw Jayne made the Maverick Housemother. This was one in a series of Maverick House firsts.

JOE E. ROSS AND DIANA DORS

Several Maverick officers went to Greensboro to extend an invitation to British sex-bomb Diana Dors and comedian Joe E. Ross. Because of a heavy schedule, the performers were unable to come to Maverick House, but they were presented with Maverick Stetsons. Both promised to come to M.H. when they are in North Carolina next fall.

NIGHT CLUB

Maverick House made another UNC first with the building of a Night Club in the House Office. The Club has a South Seas scene and is completely blocked with fluorescent light on luminous paint. There are tables for guests and an ample dance floor. The Club is complete with a "grass shack" and M. H. "Fertility God."

JAMES BROWN

The Men's Residence Council had James Brown and his Famous Flames for a concert during the past year. James and his group accepted a Maverick invitation and came to the Night Club for a while after the Concert. James was pleased with the Club and the reception. He invited several Mavericks to Durham the following night to attend a concert. There they had dinner with the band and an evening with the whole group.

Of all the Maverick House programs, the academic emphasis has most likely received a majority of the stimulation. By taking a new look at the Maverick as a student, we try to provide him with adequate places to study, with debates and speakers to encourage his thinking, and with various study aids to guide his course work.

The House library room and library are kept open 24 hours every day. Members are encouraged to contribute to—as well as use—the quiz file.

The most obvious of the new academic progress is the new Speaker Forum. This past year we invited persons of both local and national interest—ranging all the way from Otelia Connor and Chancellor Sharp to James Brown and Jayne Mansfield. Since some of the persons we invited were unable to come, we are looking forward to a vigorous program in the coming year.

"Informal Reception"

An academic program which gets little attention but which is most beneficial to student-teacher relations is the Outstanding Professor Award. Each month the Maverick Senate selects an outstanding teacher who is invited to the House to receive the Maverick 'M' and to address the residents. Needless to say, the administration has supported our efforts in this area.

The first of its kind in a Carolina residence hall, the Maverick academic program has reached heights unimagined by even the most optimistic. Though it requires co-operation and diligence, we are making the intellectual and cultural aspects of Maverick life even more interesting and enjoyable.

FRESHMEN NEEDED IN INTERMURALS

U.N.C. offers a wide assortment of sports that are available to all who are willing to enjoy them. There is no reason why every able-bodied House member cannot participate in any number of them. We always enter teams in the competition, but cannot hope to achieve success without the full cooperation and effort of our men, which we have been lucky enough to have in the past. Therefore everyone who is planning to make Craige Dorm his home for the next few months and, hopefully, years, should plan to take part in these activities. They have a proud record to uphold since Maverick House teams always finish high in intramural competition.

In addition to campus-wide competition, Craige residents enjoy the only dorm playing-field on campus. The famous Dust-Bowl is setting to, among others, such variations of tackle football as Mudball and Snowball, depending, of course, on the season of the year. Basketball goals and horseshoe pits are part of the dorm's athletic facilities. Everything is here, it is up to you to enjoy it.

MH FLOAT TAKES BEAT DUKE PARADE

The Maverick Marshals are 25 House members who help control the M.H. functions. Their duties are many and varied. Not only were they escorts for Jayne Mansfield and Richard Chamberlain (at the premiere of 'Joy in the Morning') but they also handled the Maverick Push to Dook, Motorcycle Scramble, and Gymkhana.

The Maverick Racing Team (MRT) was created to enter the joint Maverick - PSCC rally and Gymkhana. The team is composed of two Corvairs and two Corvettes with their respective pit-crews. The MRT captured first place honors at the Durham and VIR gymkhanas.

MAVERICK MOTORCYCLE SCRAMBLE

Maverick House and Travel-On Motorcycle, Inc. of Chapel Hill, co-sponsored the last big M.H. event. The scramble was held in a vacant field and featured trick riding (professional), free lessons and rides, and a mechanics school. Trials were run for an obstacle race and an exhibition of motorcycle drag-racing was given.

TARPIT

Tarpit is the newspaper, humor magazine, and voice, of Maverick House. From its conception in 1962 Tarpit was something more than a "Dorm Paper." Fraught with wit, and half-wit, Tarpit has won its way into the hearts of the residents and has always tried to do more than just bore them, like that other publication.

You'll like Tarpit. Out of its pages (seething with vice, and poor spelling) come some of the finest satire, humor, and news articles in print today. It is printed when ever the editor is sober, but next year he intends to be on the wagon and it will be bigger and better than ever.
