Walking Tour of Campus

Departs from the George Watts Hill Alumni Center

The walking tour is a pleasant way to revisit the older sections of main campus, although there are plenty of new sites to see along the way.

11:30 a.m.

Old Students Club Luncheon

The Carolina Club, George Watts Hill Alumni Center

James Lee Love (class of 1884) donated an endowment to the General Alumni Association to fund an annual gathering of the “Old Students Club” for all who have reached or passed the 50th anniversary of their graduation year. Thomas Willis Lambeth '57 will be our featured speaker. Lambeth concluded his distinguished career of public service as executive director of the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation, prior to which he served as administrative assistant to Congressman L. Richardson Preyer and North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford '39 and was on staff at the H. Smith Richardson Foundation. Lambeth served on the UNC Board of Trustees, of which he was chair, as well as the longtime chair of the GAA's Tar Heel Network. He has also served as chair of the GAA Board of Directors. Lambeth has earned the North Carolina Award from the State of North Carolina, the University Award from the UNC System, both an Honorary Degree and Distinguished Alumnus Award from UNC, the William Richardson Davie Award from the UNC Board of Trustees and the Distinguished Service Medal from the GAA. Upon his retirement from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation, the foundation made a gift to establish Thomas Willis Lambeth Professorships in the College of Arts and Sciences as well as the Schools of Government and Social Work. In addition, the Thomas Willis Lambeth Distinguished Lecture in Public Policy was established in 2006 by a gift of an anonymous donor. Each graduate from 1970 and earlier, along with one guest, are welcome to attend the luncheon at no cost. Space is limited, registration required.

1:30–2:30 p.m.

Guided Walking or Bus Tours of Campus

Both tours depart from the George Watts Hill Alumni Center

The walking tour revisits the older sections of main campus, although there are plenty of new sites to see along the way. The bus tour is the best way to see the new and familiar of main campus while also learning about the ever-expanding southern edges of UNC. All tours are complimentary. Tickets for bus tours will be given on a first-come, first-served basis as limited seats are available.

12:15 p.m.

Annual Alumni Luncheon

The Carolina Club, George Watts Hill Alumni Center

The GAA's 2020 Distinguished Service Medals will be presented to James Edward Delany '70 ('73 JD), Charles Edward Lovelace Jr. '77 ('79 MBA) and John LeRoy Townsend III '77 ('82 MBA). Greetings from UNC Chancellor Kevin Guskiewicz and a performance by the UNC Clef Hangers. Dress is business casual. Price $30

2–4 p.m.

Carmichael Makerspace Tour and Activity
Carmichael Makerspace, Carmichael Residence Hall

The newest BeAM makerspace on campus is the only one located in a residence hall. You can meet with student makers and see cutting-edge technology in action. Best of all, you and your family can make your own one-of-a-kind UNC memorabilia. Come see why so many UNC students, staff and faculty are joining the maker community.

2–4:30 p.m.

Campus Y Open House
Campus Y, Anne Queen Lounge

Drop by anytime during the open house to reminisce with old friends from the class of '70 and talk with current student leaders of the Campus Y. Tour the YMCA building, which was renovated in 2007 and includes historical exhibits from Y history as well as a student-run coffee shop in the lobby. Refreshments and coffee provided.

6–11 p.m.

Class of 1970 50th Reunion Dinner and Dancing With The Embers
The Carolina Club, George Watts Hill Alumni Center

Gather with your classmates for drinks followed by an elegant, seated dinner. After dinner, enjoy dessert and live music from The Embers. Dancing is encouraged. Dress is coat and tie for men and dresses or evening pantsuits for women. Cash bar available. Price $75; GAA member price $55. The price per person was reduced thanks to donations from Class of '70 Reunion Patrons.

Sunday, May 10

8–9:30 a.m.

Class of '70 Commencement Processional
Kenan Football Center, fifth floor

Don't miss this opportunity to participate in a wonderful Carolina tradition in which you join the processional into Kenan Stadium for the 2020 Commencement. This event is consistently rated by past 50th reunion participants as a favorite event of the weekend. Parking instructions and all necessary details will be provided in reunion packets for those who RSVP. Spouses and guests are welcome to join the fun for coffee and socializing in our gathering spot and will have a perfect vantage point to watch the procession. Following the processional, which should end before 9:30 a.m., you may depart or enjoy the rest of the Commencement program.

9 a.m.

Commencement
Kenan Stadium

Carolina's Commencement is a time to celebrate the accomplishments of thousands of Tar Heels and recognize the personal drive and determination that led them to graduation. Frank Bruni '86, who launched his journalism career as a student reporter at Carolina and now writes candidly about some of the most pressing issues in politics, culture and higher education for The New York Times, will deliver the keynote address at Commencement.

Enrichment Sessions

FRIDAY, MAY 8

9–10 a.m.

Cancer — Its Prevention, Detection and Treatment

*Blue Zone (Concourse Level),
Kenan Stadium*

Where we are making progress and where we are not. Incredible breakthroughs are occurring in the detection and treatment of cancer, but many challenges and mysteries of the disease remain. What is happening at UNC and around the world? Join Dr. Shelley Earp '70 (MD, '72 MS), director, UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center, to learn the latest in this important area of medicine.

10:10–11:10 a.m.

UNC's Physical Master Plan

*Blue Zone (Concourse Level),
Kenan Stadium*

What changes to the physical plan of campus and its structures are in the offing? Will the character of the campus change? Will it be getting larger? Decentralizing? What is the fate of some of our favorite (and least favorite) buildings? What role will UNC play in the future of downtown Chapel Hill? These and other topics will be addressed by Anna Wu, associate vice chancellor for facility services, and Evan Yassky, university architect.

1:30–2:30 p.m.

Issues and Challenges Facing UNC

*Blue Zone (Concourse Level),
Kenan Stadium*

A town hall meeting with campus leaders in a conversation about the future plans and hurdles facing UNC. Topics will come from the moderator, Buck Goldstein '70, as well as the audience and likely will include the new strategic plan, UNC's role in the state, diversity in the faculty and student body, and campus and state relations, to name just a few. Engage with and ask questions of panel members Richard Y. Stevens '70 ('74 MPA, JD), chair of the Board of Trustees; Kevin Guskiewicz, chancellor; Lloyd Kramer, faculty chair and director of Carolina Public Humanities; and Patricia S. Parker, chair of the department of communications.

2:40–3:40 p.m.

Carolina Men's Basketball — As Experienced by the Class of '70

*Blue Zone (Concourse Level),
Kenan Stadium*

Jim Delany '70 ('73 JD), Eddie Fogler '70 ('73 MAT) and Charles Scott '70 share their walk down memory lane (with no turnovers) – from their freshman team onward to two consecutive Final Fours. Led by future Naismith Hall of Fame coaches Dean Smith and Larry Brown '63 and assisted by coaches Bill Guthridge and John Lotz at both freshmen and varsity levels, this dynamic team was populated by many future professional players, including Naismith Hall of Fame inductee Scott, as well as many Morehead Scholars on the freshmen team. Like all undergraduates during the 1966-70 period, Scott, Fogler and Delany were keenly aware of and buffeted by the times and the associated social experiences. These teammates each had children who went on to play college sports and graduate from Vanderbilt, Ohio State and UNC. Hear their perceptions of how their children's experiences were similar to and different from their own experiences 50 years ago.
